

Please choose one of the following challenges.

Red Challenge

Can I use fronted adverbials?

Fill in the missing fronted adverbials in the sentences below. Use the fronted adverbial bank to help you. Remember to include your comma after your fronted adverbial!

- 1) _____ the shopkeeper checked the shop cameras.
- 2) _____ George hid behind a box of sweets.
- 3) _____ a loud noise filled the room.
- 4) _____ the children queued outside the shop.
- 5) _____ he filled his sweet bag to the top.
- 6) _____ the shop opened.

Fronted adverbial bank

Occasionally

In the morning

When the sugar balloon burst

Excitedly

Quietly

Yellow Challenge

Can I use fronted adverbials?

Complete the sentences about the magical sweet shop. Use the pictures to help you. Remember to include a comma at the end of the fronted adverbial!

- 1) In a hurry _____
- 2) Carefully _____
- 3) As the sun went down _____
- 4) When the music started _____
- 5) Every hour _____
- 6) Excitedly _____

Green Challenge

Can I use fronted adverbials?

In the paragraph below, highlight all of the fronted adverbials. Once you have found these fronted adverbials, you will need to change them to different fronted adverbials. Make sure your new fronted adverbials still fit the sentences.

As George wandered around, he noticed a glowing light coming from the top of the stairs at the back of the shop. "What could be glowing that bright? Did this have anything to do with the large figure I saw earlier in the top window?" he wondered. Slowly, he crept closer to the stairs. The light was glowing a yellow colour. At that moment, he heard a loud BANG. The girl at the front of the shop had dropped a whole boxful of chocolate frogs on the floor. George moved quickly away from the staircase in fear of getting caught. Occasionally, the shopkeeper peered at him through his rounded glasses. When the shopkeeper wasn't looking, George made his way to the back of the shop again. He felt a surge of curiosity run through his body.