

Fast Five

The answers will appear on the next page.

Match the fronted adverbial to the sentence:

Anxiously,

George popped another sweet in his mouth.

When he was hungry,

George checked to see if anyone was looking.

At 5pm,

the shop closed.

Fast Five

Match the fronted adverbial to the sentence:

Anxiously, _____ George popped another sweet in his mouth.

When he was hungry, _____ George checked to see if anyone was looking.

At 5pm, _____ the shop closed.

Summer, Week 2, Lesson 4

Can I use adverbials?

What is an adverbial?

Following on from yesterday, you will notice we are looking at adverbials. However, today we are not looking at fronted adverbials we are just looking at adverbials.

What is the difference between a fronted adverbial and an adverbial?

There is a big clue in the name. A fronted adverbial must go at the start of the sentence but an adverbial can go at the start, middle or end of a sentence.

But just like yesterday's lesson...

- It is still a word or phrase that gives more information about the verb in the sentence (how/where/why/when the verb occurs)
- The rest of the sentence must still make sense on it's own.

Let's have a look at some examples

Let's have a look at some examples

Let's have a look at some examples

Green Challenge extension

You can also place your adverbial in the middle of a sentence like the example above.

Remember: make sure the main sentence (main clause) makes sense on it's own without the adverbial.