

Dear Diary,

Today was a lovely day. First, I woke up to the smell of eggs and bacon as the servants had already been up cooking for hours. I got up, put on my favourite purple skirt and petticoat and checked on the children, who were happily playing with their nanny.

After breakfast, a horse-drawn carriage drove me over to my friend Emily's house. We drank tea in her sunny garden and then ate a delicious lunch that her servants had prepared. We had cheese and ham sandwiches with some grapes on the side.

On my way home, I stopped to buy some new toys for the children. I got them a rocking horse and some new dolls. This was a special treat as they had been so well behaved all week.

When I got back, the nanny had taken them to the park so I got to enjoy some peace and quiet in my own garden. It stayed sunny for quite a few more hours, just enough to allow me to finish the book I had been reading.

At the end of the day, I wrote a note to remind myself to get the gardener over to tend to the flowerbeds as it was supposed to be sunny all week.
