Complete the 'if, if, if, then' statements.

1) If the alarm had gone off on time, if she hadn't missed the bus, if there wasn't a traffic jam, then …

2) If the goalkeeper hadn't missed the ball, if the other team hadn't scored the last goal, if he'd passed the ball to a different player, then …

3) If Sam had stayed away from the abandoned house, if Toby had followed him when he ran, if he had looked back for his dog, then …

4) If they had ignored the lights, if the lights hadn't gone out, if Sam had stayed quiet when hiding, then …

5) If she had taken a different route, if she had never driven over the bump in the road, if only she'd slowed down, then …

6) If it didn't start raining, if he had left the house with his umbrella, if he had worn his wellington boots today, then …

Yellow

Complete these 'if, if, if, then' statements. The 'then' part has been done for you.

1) If…, if…, if…, then she would never have lost the game.

2) If…, if…, if…, then the other team would never have scored that winning basket.

3) If…, if…, if…, then she wouldn't be lost now.

4) If…, if…, if…, then we wouldn't be in this mess.

5) If…, if…, if…, then he would never have lost Toby.

6) If…, if…, if…, then her car wouldn't be broken.

7) If…, if…, if…, then they would never have been late for the party.

8) Can you think of your own 'if, if, if, then' statement?

9)

Green

1) If…, if…, if…, then she wouldn't be lost now.
2) If…, if…, if…, then we wouldn't be in this mess.
3) Using the picture below, can you write 6 of your own 'if, if, if, then' statements. Remember to start with the 'then' part first. It will make it easier to think of the 'if' parts.