

Red answers:

Intimidated

Bewildered

Cramped

Annoyed

Bored

Disgusted

Determined

Embarrassed

Deserted

Excited

Frightened

Petrified

Ashamed

Impressed

Repulsed

Abandoned

Amazed

Haunted

Any mixture of these adjectives will be correct for the following sentences, as long as they are related and make sense in that context. For example,

- 1) Frightened, intimidated, repulsed, Gemma ran away from the house as fast as she could.

Yellow answers:

Intimidated

Bewildered

Cramped

Annoyed

Bored

Disgusted

Determined

Embarrassed

Deserted

Excited

Frightened

Petrified

Ashamed

Impressed

Repulsed

Abandoned

Amazed

Haunted

Any mixture of these adjectives will be correct for the following sentences, as long as they are related and make sense in that context. For example,

- 1) Frightened, intimidated, repulsed, Gemma ran away from the house as fast as she could.

Green answers:

Any mixture of adjectives will be correct for the following sentences, as long as they are related and make sense in that context. For example,

- 1) Frightened, intimidated, repulsed, Gemma ran away from the house as fast as she could.