

Week 7 Lesson 2 Possible Answers

Can I use rhetorical questions?

RED

Which of these questions are rhetorical and which aren't?

1. Who would like sugar in their tea? Not rhetorical
2. Can't you do anything right? Rhetorical
3. If you had the chance to follow your dreams wouldn't you do the same?

Rhetorical

Possible answers

4. Do you really think that computer games are good for you?
5. School holidays should be made shorter so that we can spend more time learning in school. Why not?
6. Who can deny that the richest people are the most successful
7. Do we need to the fact that going to bed earlier means you are less tired?
8. Who doesn't know that smoking is bad for you?
9. How could you possibly think that people should only be allowed to have one child?
10. Who can deny that hurting animals is cruel?

Yellow and GREEN

Possible answers

1. Do you really think that computer games are good for you?
2. School holidays should be made shorter so that we can spend more time learning in school. Why not?
3. Who can deny that the richest people are the most successful?
4. Do we need to debate the fact that going to bed earlier means you are less tired?
5. Who doesn't know that smoking is bad for you?
6. How could you possibly think that people should only be allowed to have one child?
7. Who can deny that hurting animals is cruel?
8. People need to eat; wouldn't you agree?
9. Who can deny marmite is delicious?
10. Are you really going to argue that football is more popular than tennis?